Summary

I have a strong interest in technology, which is also one of my main hobbies. I enjoy building PCs, troubleshooting and repairing devices, and I have extensive knowledge of TVs and related technology.

I am also passionate about gaming and currently play Tekken at a competitive level. One of my strongest qualities is adaptability — I learn quickly when I understand how something works, and I have good instincts when it comes to solving problems and adapting to new situations.

Promoter	Oct 2023 - Present
Sony
Tbilisi, GE, Georgia
My first job was as a waiter, where I gained experience working in fast-paced and sometimes chaotic environments. I worked there for about eight months. After that, I joined Sony in a sales position, where I have been working for almost three years. During this time, I developed strong communication and customer service skills, and the job also helped me improve my English.
I am currently looking for a new opportunity where I can use my existing skills, gain new experience, and continue developing professionally.
